Introduction

1. The Welsh Baccalaureate was introduced in September 2015. It was reviewed in 2020 and after consultation, it was decided to discontinue the existing Welsh Baccalaureate to allow focus on a standalone skills-based qualification.
2. The current Advanced Skills Challenge Certificate has been withdrawn, with the final award of the qualification in summer 2024 and the new Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales qualification will be introduced from September 2023, awarded for the first time in summer 2025.
3. The new qualification will be available as a standalone qualification that can be taken alongside other general and vocational qualifications as part of a diverse programme of learning and will be equivalent in size and demand to an A Level and will be graded A*-E. This will ensure that no changes occur to how the qualification attracts UCAS tariff points.
4. The Welsh Baccalaureate is not statutory at post-16 however Welsh Government policy encourages all sixth forms and further education colleges to offer it as part of their learning programmes.
5. As a result we are proposing to replace the existing performance measures for the Welsh Baccalaureate with overall achievement rates and grades for the Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales.
6. These measures require learning programmes, activities and outcomes to be recorded accurately and consistently across all post-16 providers, within the parameters of the separate data collection systems for schools and further education institutions. This document sets out our proposed approach to measuring the Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales outcomes, and the requirements for data recording to support this approach.

Qualification structure for the post-16 Welsh Baccalaureate

7. The Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales programme is a two year qualification.
8. Further information can be found in the specification published by the WJEC.

Data recording requirements for the Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales

9. Both schools and FE institutions record data on learners and what qualifications they are undertaking on their own management information systems (MIS). For schools this is uploaded to the Welsh Government via DEWi as part of the post-16 data collection once a year (in October). For FE institutions it is submitted to the Welsh Government via the Lifelong Learning Wales Record (LLWR) on a rolling basis throughout the year.
10. In order to monitor both participation rates and outcomes, it is vital that schools and further education institutions record Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales programmes and activities accurately. We will continue to measure achievement over two years, so we have an accurate picture of learners who dropped out after the first year (or at any point before completion).
11. The Qualification Wales Approval Designation (QWAD) number for the Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales are as follows:

Level	Description	QWAD
Level 3	WJEC Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales	C00/4571/8

12. Worked examples of how the Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales should be recorded by schools on the post-16 collection and FE institutions on LLWR can be found in the annexes:
- Annex A shows examples for schools; and
 - Annex B shows examples for FE institutions.

Reporting on outcomes for the Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales

13. The measures for the Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales form part of our consistent performance measures for post-16 learning.
14. Rather than being based purely on examination entry, the consistent measures are based on 'achievement', that is, they will reflect the entire cohort of learners, factoring in completion as well as attainment.
15. As the new Advanced Skills Baccalaureate Wales becomes established, we will build up baseline data in order to set benchmarks overall achievement rates and grades.
